

Looking for work in Iceland

Expertise in Labour Mobility has prepared practical guides to support you in your job-hunting abroad. A thorough preparation will give you a head start in the country of your choice.

Editorial Review

The Looking for work in Iceland guide tells you about CV writing, recruitment practice, country profile and management differences. It's the first step on your route to success abroad. Because, an international career needs more than just a mere CV translation!

Country Profile

- Iceland capital city is Reykjavik. It is also the biggest city on the island.
- Iceland currency is krona. Due to the financial crisis in 2009, Iceland three major banks Kaupthing, Landsbanki and Glitnir are nationalized by the government.

Work permits in Iceland

- Citizens of the EEA are free to move and work anywhere within the EEA, including Iceland.
- Contact the Icelandic embassy in your home country for more information on work permits.

Writing a CV and application letter in Iceland

- It is common to end a CV with a professional and an academic reference.
- Emphasise your motivation and qualifications for the job.

The application procedure in Iceland

- Speculative applications are always a good way to find a job in the small community of Iceland.
- Language is important. No one expected foreigners to be fluent in Icelandic, but an interest in the language is very much appreciated.

Management culture in Iceland

- It is very uncommon to use 'Sir' or 'Miss' when addressing someone.
- At meetings in Iceland, people prefer flexibility and familiarity. Formalities and rules are less common.
